

For Spot On Electrical Protection, Just Look for the Red Spot

No other Fuse Holder Works a Longer Shift

For over 40 years, the Red Spot fuse holder has been at the heart of protecting industrial electrical systems. In fact it's done such a great job, we decided to hire it. Now Red Spot is a part of Cooper Bussmann with its comprehensive range of British Standard fuses and fusegear.

The Red Spot holder is the same great product with the same great features that made it the industry standard and, what's more, it teams up perfectly with our BS range of fuses. We're pretty sure it's spot on to do a greater job in the next 40 years.
